

Role profile – Youth Programmes Volunteer

Location	Age requirement
JET currently operates in 15 counties across the UK, divided into South, Central and North	Minimum age 18 years

About the Jon Egging Trust

The Jon Egging Trust ('JET') is a dynamic and innovative youth engagement charity. Each academic year we aim to improve the life-chances of over 10,000 young people.

The Trust was set up in honour of Flt Lt Jon Egging, who lost his life following a display at the Bournemouth Air Festival in 2011. He was coming to the end of his first year with the world-famous Royal Air Force Aerobatic Team 'The Red Arrows' flying in the position of Red 4. The Jon Egging Trust realises Jon's dream of inspiring young people through his love of aviation, teamwork and leadership, helping them to overcome adversity, identify their strengths and work towards their ambitions.

Mission

- To support young people from disadvantaged backgrounds, to overcome adversity and achieve their full potential
- To deliver accredited learning programmes to develop work and life skills by providing young people with access to inspirational role models and life-changing opportunities linked to aviation, engineering and science
- To raise young people's aspirations, confidence and self-esteem and to help them re-engage with education and so make informed choices about their futures

JET Youth Programmes

JET offers two youth engagement initiatives: Blue Skies and Inspirational Outreach, in conjunction with our partners from the worlds of aviation and STEM.

Blue Skies (BS) is an intensive, targeted, early intervention programme offered through two delivery routes: Blue Skies three-year syllabus and Blue Skies Inspire Packages. Working in partnership with a particular school in each region alongside our military and civilian partners, we provide a set and standardised curriculum for young people from 10+ years old, based on the core values of Teamwork, Leadership and Inspiration. Schools can choose between our flagship three-year syllabus, and a bespoke series of sessions over a shorter timeframe, depending on their specific learning objectives and the needs of the young people.

Inspirational Outreach (IO) provides bespoke impact days or a short series of sessions for children and young people from key stage 2 through to school leavers according to the needs specified by schools.
